

ured of getting dependable goods at proper prices here. None but the best allowed to enter our store, none but the best sold.—A. G. Bain & Co.

Hamilton Times Patterns

A NEAT AND SIMPLE JACKET-SUIT.

No. 9313.—Girls' "Norfolk" suit with strap plait and long or short sleeves. White linen was used for this model, with self stitching for a finish. The design is suitable for any of the materials now in vogue, and will be found a comfortable and attractive suit for the growing girl. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 4 yards of 36-inch material for the 5-year size.

9313

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in "two or stamps.

To secure pattern, fill out this blank (Write plainly). Name, address and mail to Pattern Department. The Hamilton Times, Hamilton, Ont.

It will take several days before you can get pattern.

No. _____ Size _____
 Name _____
 Street and No. _____
 City _____

LOTS THAT FADED

"Yes," he confessed, "I quite imagined so, but I fancy Miss Barbara must be younger by several years than the majority of her guests. By the way," he added, "I am not a very good character, but I am a very good character."

"Do you admire her?" murmured the French girl in a confidential voice, de- viling her desperate attempt to speak earnestly.

"Admire her? Indeed I do—more than the words express," he cried enthusiastically. "She is the loveliest girl that I have ever beheld!"

If he had but glanced at the companion he would have seen her turn pale as death in the moment when her dark eyes grew stormy with sudden passion, and her little hands clinched themselves tightly together.

"Barbara is not so much of a child as you seem to imagine," he said, "but she is very young and very beautiful."

"A girl who is deeply in love has lost all her childhood behind her," he said, "and she is a very young woman."

"In love!" echoed Clarence Neville, in a tone of great disappointment, "though he could hardly have told you, for the very thought was so keenly dis- tasteful to him, 'I quite fancied that she had no experience in love or in any other matter.'"

"I add this much—fortunate indeed is the man who wins her," he said, "but she is a very young woman."

"At that moment he turned to her, noticed it and explained in a hurried way. Are you Miss Haver? You look as though you were about to swoon. The change from the heated drawing room to these cool grounds has been too much for you. Let me see your pulse. The garden bench and fetch you an ice. There!" he exclaimed, drawing her near to his shoulder, "I shall be back directly."

He was gone in a trice, and India left alone with her own warning, "I shall be back directly." She felt in love with each other at first sight, in the garden, hurrying to her aid, the cool, trembling hands, "and I—oh, Heaven!—I love him so. I would die if he should win me!"

"But she shall not!" he cried, beating the air fiercely with his clenched hand. "I will separate them. No one shall come between India Haver and the man whom she has at her heart."

The girl is beautiful, bright, and as beautiful as a poem, and when I looked into her simple baby face I feared for myself. I had a terrible presentiment of it. I shall—"

The sentence was never finished; a shadow stole across the moonlit path. She glanced up. Surely Mr. Neville could not have returned so fast.

A man, young, dark and handsome, her staring down into her face with eyes fairly bulging from their sockets.

"India, the beautiful Parisienne!" cried. "Great God! are you or I dreaming? What are you, of all women in the world—do you?"

"I am asking you the same question," replied the girl, with glittering eyes and a smothered laugh on her lips.

"I asked the question first," he said, "but I will answer, that it is not a woman's question."

"I am an American and a respected member of society, and my home is in this village; but you, who belong far across the seas, and I believe I have met you in some place, and you have laughed at me when you found me penniless—"

"You who had reduced me to the street, and you saw me thrown into the street, to starve, steal or beg, as best I could; the most notorious lecher of my day, picked Paris, I ask again, what are you, going here, in this proud, sacred American home, to do as these demure maidens, seemingly in the role of guest; who has dared bring you across this threshold? Leave this place at once, quietly and without attracting attention, or I shall take it upon myself to denounce you—acquaint every one here with that roof as to what and what you are!"

All in a moment the fiend in the girl's bosom roared. She laughed a little, she cried in her shrill French tongue, "I laugh at you—yes, I mock you. You were my handsome gay cavalier worshipper, and now you are a villain!"

"You are a villain!" she cried, "and you are a villain!"

Stylish Millinery Reduced

More room needed for the great Christmas rush accounts for these tremendous reductions so early in the season. You have all winter to wear this stylish millinery and can't imagine better bargains.

$5.00 to $7.00 Trimmed Hats 98c and $1.98
 These are stylish felt hats in good colors, also some Velvet Covered Hats, stylishly trimmed with wings, mounds, feathers, etc. Regularly $5.00 to $7.00. Your choice to-morrow 98c and $1.98

Felt Hat Shapes for 25c
 Grand clearing sale of Colored Felt Hats, newest shapes and colors and worth up to $2.00 each, but we need the room, so they must go to-morrow at 25c

Wings and Mounds 15c and 25c
 Splendid assortment to choose from. Black, navy and all new colorings; wings, mounds, feathers, bands, etc. Regularly up to $3.00; your choice 15c and 25c

CARPET and RUG REDUCTIONS

Squares $8.40
 Clearing line All-wool Art Squares, size 2x3 1/2 yards, suitable for bedrooms or dining rooms, $12, sale price 84c

$30.00 Brussels Squares $18.00
 Clearing line Brussels Squares, size 11-12-13; rich colorings, worth $30. Sale price $18

$35.00 Wilton Squares $22.00
 Clearing line Wilton Squares, size 11-12-13; green, crimson and blue colorings; worth $35. Sale price $22

50c Tapestry Carpets 37 1/2c
 Clearing line Tapestry Carpets, tan, green and red colorings, worth 50c, sale price 37 1/2c

$1.35 Brussels Carpets 85c
 Clearing line Brussels Carpets, borders to match; green, tan, red and blue colorings; worth up to $1.35, sale price 85c

Paris? Would the father think such a man a fitting mate for little India, who is the cure for his heart—the very apple of his eye? Ah, I see you do realize the precipice upon which you stand, and you will be wise and temperate with me."

"Pardon me," he said, "but I have heard of our young man to be married, for he has been in the years that came after!"

"Who is my rival?" he asked, hoarsely. "There are quite half a dozen more eager to enter the race as suitor for the heart and hand of the little maid here."

"He relied back as though he had been told," he said, "but I am not a man to be so easily deceived."

"I will keep your secret for the present," he whispered. "Where can I see you alone to talk over this matter more fully with you? I have set my mind on winning Barbara Haver, and I would move heaven and earth to accomplish my desire."

"I suppose you must have to go up to bed, Miss Neville," he said, "but the fact was, the first time that I was leaving the room with me with a misgiving and I was obliged to await my turn to go."

"I am sorry you were put to so much trouble," he said, "but the fact was, the first time that I was leaving the room with me with a misgiving and I was obliged to await my turn to go."

"I am sorry you were put to so much trouble," he said, "but the fact was, the first time that I was leaving the room with me with a misgiving and I was obliged to await my turn to go."

"I am sorry you were put to so much trouble," he said, "but the fact was, the first time that I was leaving the room with me with a misgiving and I was obliged to await my turn to go."

"I am sorry you were put to so much trouble," he said, "but the fact was, the first time that I was leaving the room with me with a misgiving and I was obliged to await my turn to go."

STEAMSHIP
WHITE STAR
 Dominion Canadian Service
 MONTREAL-QUEBEC-LIVERPOOL
 LARGEST STEAMERS FOR CANADA
Christmas Sailings
 from Portland, Me., and Halifax
 Laurentide Dec. 7
 Tontine "14
 Canada "21
 Low rates in all classes.
 See our leaflet and Brochure free.
 Local Agents—Hunting Bros., C.B. Morgan and W. B. McIlroy.

Get Our Prices
 For Tin, Lead, Zinc, Babbitt, Solder, Sheet Lead, Lead Pipe

THE CANADA METAL CO. LIMITED
 Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg
 Hamilton Office—408 Spadina
 Building, Phone 2170.
 Representative—E. Park.

Diamonds
 Our Latest Arrival from Europe
 (See diamond advertisement) advanced. This is a new of our goods. Advise us
 you may see the price of all you have in stock.
 OFFER PURCHASE
 OF YOUR DIAMONDS
 WILL BE RAISED AC-CORDING TO THE
 BUY NOW
KLEIN & BINKLEY
 Jewelers and Opticians
 100-102 Dundas Street West
 Phone 400-400

WILL AID CANADA
 British Consular Service to Help Our Trade.

G.T.P. GETS MONTREAL BRANCH.
 Montreal, Nov. 25.—It is officially stated here to-day that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway's long-talked-of Montreal branch has been solved by an agreement with the Bell Telephone Company whereby the G. T. P. will acquire running rights over that line from Montreal to the Bell Telephone Company's North Railway crosses the Transcontinental 200 miles from here and half way to James Bay.

A CHOLERA HEROINE.
 Constantinople, Nov. 25.—The Red Crescent Volunteers are protesting that to take up the relief work, the Rev. Robert Ford, a Scotch pastor in Constantinople, and Miss Ait, a woman 60 years old, who for many years has been connected with English and American missions work in Turkey, are taken quarters in the cholera camp and will devote themselves to the care of the victims.

CHOLERA SPREADS
 Goes North From Turkey Into Bulgaria.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Think of the Eye
 How doctors can ruin it. It is now known that the constant use of eye medicine is a sure way to ruin it. It is a sure way to ruin it. It is a sure way to ruin it.

WANTED
 Young man to call on us for their Wedding. We are a firm of jewelers and we are looking for a young man to call on us for their Wedding.

Electric Restorer for Men
 This is a new and powerful method of restoring the vitality of the male system. It is a new and powerful method of restoring the vitality of the male system.

RAILWAYS
GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY
 Winter Tours to California, Colorado, Mexico and Pacific Ports
 The Grand Trunk Railway is the most direct route from all points East to California, Colorado, Mexico and Pacific Ports.
FEATURES
 Double Track, Fast Service, Fine Roadbed, Modern Equipment, Clean, Hot Dining Car Service.
 All elements of safety and comfort to THE SUNNY SOUTH
 No more tedious route than via Grand Trunk to Detroit, then by rail to Jacksonville, Palm Beach, Miami, etc.
 Tourist tickets, giving choice of all line routes, together with full information and reservations, may be obtained from H. Morgan, 11 Duke Street North. Phone 601.

CANADIAN PACIFIC
$17.55
CHICAGO
 Return from Hamilton, via Quebec, Dec. 1, 2, 3, 4.
 Return from Chicago, via Hamilton, Dec. 1, 2, 3, 4.
LIVE STOCK SHOW
 Fair train service. Equipment the Finest.
 Tickets and all information from Wm. McIlroy, 107 Dundas Street West, corner King and James streets.

T. H. & B. Through Train Service Between Hamilton and St. Thomas
 Leave St. Thomas.....7:05 a.m.
 Arrive Hamilton.....7:30 a.m.
 Leave Hamilton.....8:30 a.m.
 Arrive St. Thomas.....9:30 p.m.
 Further information apply to A. CRAIG, G. C. MARTIN, Ticket Agent, Phone 400.

COOK WITH GAS
 Cool, Convenient, Economical

HAMILTON GAS LIGHT CO.
 141 Park Street N.
 Phone 21-22

A Large Stock of Second Hand Stoves, Ranges and Feeders
 To be sold at reasonable prices.

GEO. C. ELLICOTT
 119 King St. West.
 Open evenings 7 to 9 p.m.

THE HOOP OF GOLD
 Among a living display that is bigger than what you see at most places, we show a nice selection of WEDDING RINGS. And when you take a look at our display of RINGS. You'll find it interesting.

THOMAS LEES
 8-JACKMAN STREET NORTH.

Think of the Eye
 How doctors can ruin it. It is now known that the constant use of eye medicine is a sure way to ruin it. It is a sure way to ruin it. It is a sure way to ruin it.

WANTED
 Young man to call on us for their Wedding. We are a firm of jewelers and we are looking for a young man to call on us for their Wedding.

Electric Restorer for Men
 This is a new and powerful method of restoring the vitality of the male system. It is a new and powerful method of restoring the vitality of the male system.

BLANCHARD & SON FUNERAL DIRECTORS
 87 King St. West
 Tel. 181-182. PRIVATE MORTUARY

SPORTS UP-TO-DATE AND LIVELY
EVERY FIELD COVERED
PAGE EVERYBODY READS"Big Four" Looks Strongest LeagueMany Think That Argos Could Have Defeated McGill.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—What sort of a showing could Argos have made against McGill? That was the question after Saturday's game. Down Montreal was they elected to hang their rugby suits and win the inter-league matches in the newspapers. Perhaps when the whole matter has been carefully doled out, they have shown their wisdom, if nothing else. The argument looked to be just the sort of team that could have taken a rise out of the ride and wind in fact, they would take much more kindly to the McGill method of attack than they did to the running and passing game as played by Varsity.

In the first place, Varsity played a much better game on Saturday than they put up a week ago, probably because they are always strong at home. They went at the Ospreys with vigor that they seemed to lack in Ottawa, and although the ball was not handled as cleanly as it might have been behind the scrimmage there was none of that very apparent nervousness which seemed to affect everyone in the critical inter-league struggle. Then the presence of Galt made a tremendous difference. Huggins was a little untidy at the start, dropping the ball just when the Argos were feeling their way, but by mistakes, but once he settled down he proved to be just what that back division lacked in Ottawa. His splendid punting, ever without perfect protection, would have made Huggins and his stalwarts feel less anxious to part with the ball. On the occasion when he went over for him, he showed just how much it counts to have some weight at the end of a combination run. It was that combination run that won the double ball. The Argos have a way of all playing for the ball, so that the outside wing frequently took the first man to handle it, while the outside wing men were crossing over behind him after other runners. In this way Varsity made their big gains. The combination had no terror for McGill. The line spread out, seemingly covering every man after the manner of checking in lacrosse, so that the second or third man to handle the leather was usually on the ground before he could get a good start. It is not that McGill was a weak team, and that Varsity was game working in good style, did not down the Argos.

McGill beat Varsity by forcing them to play the kicking game and then out-clasping them at it. That would not have worked against the Argos quite so well. The McGill scrimmage gave Billington perfect protection, but Varsity seemed unable to smash through on him. He was unable to allow his wings to get well started before he sent the ball after them, and Lewis and Laing completed the victory. With those long Argos line men charging in on him, Billington would be paring with the ball just as quickly as this wing line's made stouter get it away. His punts are as long as traffic, though not as high. This would exactly suit the Argos, giving them time to recover after their punts. One could only imagine the McGill boys returning the punts as they did against Varsity, for the simple reason that there is no team in Canada today, which gets its backs as often as the Ospreys by ripping up the opposing line. It is not merely the long line-man's put straight behind it and pick out the openings so that they are hard to follow.

If Varsity had possessed a really effective line-man like Heuter, Wale or Lawson to use when their combination failed, the outcome might have been very different. Then the running of the McGill backs exactly suits the Argos' tackling, and let it be said right here that the Ospreys are a lot better back than most people think. Had inter-provincial possessors. They do not like the combination runs, it is true, but they get the individual effort every line. That is where they worry McGill, protection that he can do his little profit so that the wings are always up on them. There is one more point about the Argos game, but it is by no means the least one. Stopping Lawson and the other big plungers would soon take the ginger out of the red and white, just as it did out of the scrappy Ottawa line in the two "safety" minutes to the championship game.

There may be no great team in Canada this year, but the Argos have never gone so well as in the last few games. As individual group getters the men are particularly fine, frequently took and aggressive. They are beginning to play like a team, and they are beginning to vary their game nicely. In fact, they are a real team when it comes to carrying the ball down the field and that played no small part in defeating both Ottawa and Varsity. They are the sort of crowd which the "rattler" or "booster" McGill on the field than to be "sore shot," but the Montreal university team, which they met on the gridiron it would have been a real team, but not meeting by the last three games—taking the play rather than the score—it looks as though the Argos would have a little on McGill. This seems like one of the rare years in which the inter-provincial is stronger than the inter-league.

J. T. Brush, Owner of Giants, Dies Suddenly
Was On Way to Sunny California When End
Came—Death Was Not Unexpected.

(By Times Special Wire.)
Louisiana, Mo., Nov. 26.—John T. Brush, president of the New York National team, died here today of a heart attack. He was on his way west for his health. He had suffered for years from locomotor ataxia.

Mr. Brush, who was married from New York Sunday night, unconscious, died between here and St. Louis on his way to San Francisco. His private car was detached from a Burlington train here and started back to St. Louis.

New York, Nov. 26.—The news of John T. Brush's death in his private car in Missouri early today, was not unexpected by his family and friends here. The wealthy owner of the New York National League team has been at death's door for some time, and a long trip to sunny California was decided upon a few days ago. He left here on Sunday night, and was carried from his hotel and placed in his private car in a semi-conscious condition. He was accompanied by several physicians.

Mr. Brush, who was 63 years of age, had been a sufferer from locomotor ataxia for many years. In 1910 he was officially ill, but after a winter in Texas he came back to New York much improved and took up his business affairs again. His health continued to improve until Sept. 11, when he met with an automobile accident in which he sustained a broken hip.

ings there and purchased the New York Club.
(By Times Special Wire.)
New York, Nov. 26.—Notwithstanding the sudden death of John T. Brush, President of the New York National League Baseball club, magnates of the National League assembly here today laid the charges against President F. H. of the Philadelphia club, announced this morning that what action will be taken out of respect to Mr. Brush will then be determined after discussion.

Garry Hermann, of Cincinnati, chair of the National Commission, meeting for the statement that the meeting would be held as arranged. "It is my opinion," he said, "that we should act together, and then decide on some appropriate way of expressing our regret at John Brush's death."

It was expected that during the morning a number of (underlined) would be just (Continued on Page 5.)
CLEARER DEFINITION OF OFF-SIDE INTERFERENCE
The question of off-side interference will form the subject of meetings to be held next month. It will be brought up in the Inter-Provincial Union by the Ottawa Club, and in the Inter-League by Queen's.
Queen's will ask that the rule regarding interference be made more explicit, so that the inter-provincial referee is not at a loss to have to be consulted a bone of contention. Coach Sitter is in favor of allowing the ball to be thrown forward as the ball is in the air, and points out that the rules should make it clear just how far interference is to be allowed.

STERLING
FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS
You will do well to reserve your seats and suggest sparkling, favoring
STERLING ALE
Brewed from the finest malt and hops and purest sterilized water.
The Ideal Beverage for every occasion.
Brewed and bottled in the most sanitary and up-to-date plant in Canada by Reinhardt's of Toronto
Inspection invited 11/27

World's Greatest Half Back is "Hobey" Baker
If You'll Believe Princeton--and Lots of Folks Do!

"That Quaker, Baker," is rhythmic; also it's becoming a habit. It was J. Franklin Baker, a Quaker because of a contract with the Athletics, whose home runs won a pennant for Connie Mack. And here is another of the name, "Hobey" Baker, whose deeds on the gridiron rank him with Poe, Frenchy, De Witt and other Princeton mortals. He has twice been Horatio at the bridge before an ancient foe.

Last year Sam White scooped a loose football and sped to a Princeton victory; but Baker has twice saved the "Tiger" this year—once by a great run, and once by his educated toe.

If the Salvation Army was given the money spent this fall toasting Baker, what a pile of Christmas baskets it could buy the needy! Baker beat Dartmouth, the eleven that delights in spilling the "big foot" all over eastern gridirons. Dartmouth is the sinister nightmare of eastern coaches. Its young men play football as they do "chem" and "H.I." Against Princeton, Dartmouth is a wall. The Tiger could not advance; instead, slowly but surely, it was giving ground to the driving Dartmouth backs.

They lined up on Princeton's 20-yard line. Suddenly, "Three for Baker!" screamed the Princeton rooters as a second player dashed from the struggling lines. Dartmouth's rooters yelled away. Tacklers tried to intercept him, but failed. One drove from behind. Baker staggered, but continued. On he went, 20—40—50 yards. Orange and black pennants waved hysterically.

"Baker!" was the cry.

But 10 yards from the end of the Dartmouth line, the young man, the hero, his mouth distended in a terrible grin, poised on his toes, striding like a leashed bound, itching to pull down his prey. He leaped, but Baker's tackle was perfect. He was killed and only futile fingers scraped his molestation.

An instant later Baker was wringing perspiration from his face, under the Dartmouth goal, while the stands roared with "Baker! Baker!" That run through the Dartmouth eleven was one of the greatest in football history, but Baker's dash and caused coaches to instruct their charges to "get Baker."

Yale tried to "get Baker," and failed, but watched him so closely he could not duplicate his brilliant run. But despite the seven pounds per man advantage in weight, Yale could not down the Tiger, because Baker broke up their plays at critical moments.

Time and again the Princeton quarter—another Baker, by the way—tried to "Hobey" off on an end run, but the Yale defense would not yield. It did give way to the plunging drives of De Witt, however, and twice was pushed back within kicking distance each time "Hobey" Baker kicked a fine goal.

Yale tried the score with field goals. Yale would have won but for Baker. Princeton really deserved to win, and would have, but for an error of generalship. Either way you look at it, Baker looms gigantic over both teams. Alone he prevented defeat.

Baker is perhaps the best offensive back in the states. Princeton claims he is and critics who saw him against Dartmouth and Yale, agree.

Not only is he a great gridiron hero, but he shines as a hockey player, swimmer, wrestler, baseball and basketball player. He is 100 lbs. and does his voting in Philadelphia.

Ten Killed and 83
Injured on Gridiron

The List of Dead Football Players is Smallest Since 1901.

Year	Killed	Injured
1908	1	304
1909	1	219
1910	2	409
1911	1	178
1912	10	83

(Chicago, Nov. 26.—Ten killed and 83 injured constitutes the toll collected during the season of 1912. Despite assertions that the game of 1912 differed little from the old style of playing, the list of dead is the smallest since 1901, when seven lost their lives. Five more injuries were reported this year than in 1910, when 29 were killed and 216 injured, or that of 1910, when 22 accumulated and the injured numbered 429.)

Ted York, a member of the Yale varsity football team, sustained slight injuries in the Yale-West Point game. He recovered from the football injury, but was killed in the lead of a "warrior" during a football game.

Sprained ankles occur a prominent feature in the list of disabled. Thirty-two ankles were reported damaged in the season, while twelve players were reported with fractured legs or ankles. There were thirteen major dislocations and ten broken noses, while eight players were injured in the head. The other injuries included major sprains, wrenches and minor injuries.

Twelve Year Record

Year	Killed	Injured
1901	7	74
1902	13	106
1903	14	141
1904	14	276
1905	14	276
1906	14	100
1907	14	100

Tigers Class Beat
the O.R.F.U. ChampsSo Writes Lou Marsh in the Toronto Star—Alerts Lacked Finish.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real old-fashioned "bottle royal"—a hit-in-the-throat and jab-in-the-carney, but instead they were treated to a rattling good football contest—in fact, one of the best ever played on the Hamilton grounds.

Whether the players were too busy chasing the elusive football to hand out wallops, or whether this cat-and-alive sentiment existed only in the minds of a few blood-chilly followers of both teams is something that cannot be decided, but suffice it to say that it was almost a brilliant game.

If the footing had been better, the Alerts would have been positively much ground-out in the center where it did not count much, or when they did to smash the ball away from their line, but when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

Outside of outside and flying wings there was but little to choose between the Alerts and the Tiger line. The Alerts had a little bit of finish—the ability to hit the ball when it came to going over the Tiger line via the rush route, Alerts kicked—failed—else Tiger linemen took it to the goal.

In Gately, Gately and Thompson, Alerts had a superb trio of fast, hard-tackling, brainy wings, and against them the Tiger crumple play of Alerts tripped up in vivid contrast.

On the rear guard there was but slight choice. Leckie may have had a little bit on Sam Manson in the booting line, but Manson had the lead, and pulled off some grand merris. He played a stellar game in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and he looked quite at home in senior company. He was sailing good boy, McKelvey and Burton both had grand days. Both caught well, and both brought down the Alerts' line, and tackled for several 30 and 40 yard gains each.

Baker was a bit off early in the game, but on end he and Leckie and Carr gave a brilliant exhibition of both defensive and offensive football.

The game was one which gave everyone a chance to cheer. Both sides pulled off many brilliant plays, and when Alerts threatened to tie it up in the afternoon, the Alerts put the game in the hands of the Tiger line, and the Alerts were defeated. Though beaten, Alerts supporters are not satisfied that the best team won.

Lou Marsh, writing for the Toronto Star, says of Saturday's Alert-Tiger game:

"The long-anticipated clash between those keen rivals, Alerts, champions of the O.R.F.U., and Tigers, Hamilton's Big Four team, took place Saturday before 6,000 excited fans, and Tigers won by 12 to 8.

The crowd went up expecting to see a real

SR WILFRED'S ATTACK ON THE GOVERNMENT

Moves Amendment to Address in Reference to By-Elections

Borden Loses His Temper—Oliver's Slashing Criticism.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—It started like a lightning storm, Sir Wilfred Laurier threw down the gauntlet of battle all along the line at the very outset of the debate on the amendment in reply to the speech from the Throne, and the House adjourned to-night after a sharp interchange, which found Premier Borden on the defence, and the opposition on the attack, and the speaker to stay the vigorous argument of Hon. Frank Oliver in connection with the Macdonald by-election.

The Liberal Chief was in splendid form, and aroused intense enthusiasm in his followers by throwing the entire Ministry immediately upon the defensive by a spirited series of attacks at various vulnerable points in the Government's position.

He concluded his address by moving the following amendment to the address in reply: "That this House begs to represent to your Royal Highnesses that, in the by-election of Macdonald and Richelieu, there were practices, calculated to corrupt the electorate, and which were committed at the by-elections, and which deserve the censure of the House."

Premier Borden's reply, which he made in a speech lasting nearly an hour, was a masterpiece of argument and wit, and he met all Sir Wilfred's charges, and met all the accusations of Ministerial dishonesty on the part of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

At the close of the night sitting, when Mr. Oliver was training his guns on the Government, the Premier, who was evidently much annoyed, cried "Enough." The Edmonton man had read the House various affidavits in connection with the Macdonald and Richelieu by-elections, and he said that the whole circumstances were very much more than the pale of politics. He drew attention to the action of the Presbyterian Synod of Montreal, when the Conservatives, headed by Dr. Schaffner, Mr. White and Mr. Marshall, broke into laughter.

Mr. Oliver resented the sneer at the mention of the Presbyterian Synod, and he said that the Presbyterian Synod had always stood for human liberty and free speech. He proceeded to arraign the Government for its conduct in the by-elections, and he said that the Government had been guilty of a series of practices, which were calculated to corrupt the electorate, and he said that the Government had been guilty of a series of practices, which were calculated to corrupt the electorate.

Mr. Oliver maintained that he was within the rules, but had no objection to stopping if the Premier found it distasteful.

Mr. Borden replied warmly that he had no objection to anything, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Borden said his point of order was the bringing of matters entirely within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Administration.

Mr. Macdonald rose to a point of order. The Premier, who had no objection to making four speeches on his point of order, (Liberal laughter).

Mr. Oliver warned the Premier that he would find another opportunity to the House. "I propose to show," said he, "the improper interference of this Government in the conduct of elections in Saskatchewan. It has been the most gross travesty of the principles of justice and a villainous denial of the rights of free speech to which the colleagues of the Prime Minister have been directly a part. He and his Government stand to be held responsible for this, and he and his whole Government must take the full responsibility for this conduct of affairs."

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Oliver sat down amid prolonged Liberal cheering and Conservative howling, and Hon. Mr. White made the adjournment of the debate.

A NON-COMMITTAL SPEECH.

The speech of the morning at the address, Mr. Laurier, was a completely brilliant. He commended the propriety of the country, the propriety of the Government, and the propriety of the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

only on command, by order in Council, and gave Premier Borden and Minister of Finance White an anxious few minutes conference by reading the correspondence which appeared in The Canadian Courier from a confidential source, concerning the letters to Premier Borden and the latter's answer to him, divulging the fact that the reduction was made, according to the statement of this correspondence, solely to influence the result of the Saskatchewan election.

"We shall have the names of Sir Wilfred, and the names of the papers are brought down."

The Liberal leader expressed regret that the Minister of Finance, towards whom he had been since the reduction had permitted himself to become involved in a deal of this kind, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Touching the promised increase in Senatorial representation from the prairie provinces, Sir Wilfred asked if it was to be no distribution this year, following the census. It was a "what is the minister doing in this connection?" Sir Wilfred asked, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. W. F. Nickle, in answering the question, the memory of his fellow-townsman, the late Sir Richard Cartwright, in the House of Commons, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

The problem of the high cost of living, he believed, could be solved in large measure by the Government's policy of making each penny practically a demonstration farm, with the aim of making the general public more self-reliant than the Government, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier was speaking from the House, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made, and he said that the Government was not guilty of any of the charges which Sir Wilfred had made.

VISITING OTTAWA

Alaska Railroad Commission Studying Our Methods

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 25.—Members of the Alaska Railroad Commission appointed by President Taft are in Ottawa on the way home from an extensive tour through Alaska. The commission, which is composed of Major J. Morrow, Dr. Alfred H. Wood, Mr. Leonard M. Cox and Colin M. Ingersoll, was appointed to study the best available railway routes, and to-day had an interview with the Minister of Railways and Marine, Mr. J. H. McNair, in connection with the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

The members of the commission expressed great interest in the study of the railway system followed by the Government in building pioneer railways in northern Canada, and also are interested in the possibility of a Canadian railway being built from the Peace River into the Yukon, where it might connect with the Alaska road, and form a direct line to the United States possession.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

AS FORA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. The signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher is on the wrapper. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant, it contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic, all Febrile Troubles and all other ailments of Infants and Children. It is a safe and reliable remedy. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Charles H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

GILLIES-GUY LIMITED

The woman was nearly exhausted when she was rescued, but she appeared to have suffered little from the wetting.

BRUCE WILL WAIT

Six Months Before He Leaves Embassy.

Washington, Nov. 25.—That the Panama Canal controversy with England will be a legacy to the next administration is the opinion of political circles. This was learned definitely today. The British Embassy, it was learned, has this view, and the Ambassador Bruce, who has resigned, has made up his mind that he will have to remain at his post until late in the spring of 1914 at the very best. Though the Ambassador has been in the office since 1911, he has placed himself in the disposal of his Government. The British Press has been very anxious to know until the Panama Canal matter is adjusted, and the Ambassador has consequently been kept down to a state of suspense for some time. It was believed that the British Government would not allow the Ambassador to remain until the Taft Administration is no more, and then push his protest vigorously when President-elect Wilson takes office.

The Paper On Which "The Times" Is Printed Is Made By The

Riordon Paper Co. LIMITED

FIBRE, PAPER, LUMBER

SPECIALTIES: News and Building Paper; The Celebrated "Hawkesbury" Spruce Sheathing.

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Write Mr. Taylor in Telling His Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

THINK OVER THIS

THERE is none so good as the best, and the best in Job Printing is that of the Times Printing Co., Limited. We are in a position to give you the BEST, and a trial order will convince you of the excellent quality of our work. Combined with this is the distinctiveness of style and moderate prices—features which are unexcelled anywhere.

WE SOLICIT YOUR PATRONAGE

TIMES PRINTING CO., LIMITED

Cor. King William and Hudson Streets

JOB DEPARTMENT FIRST FLOOR UP

PHONE 840

THE ONLY CURE FOR PILES

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure for piles, hemorrhoids, and all other ailments of the rectum. It is a safe and reliable remedy. The signature of Dr. Chase is on the wrapper. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor.

THE ONLY CURE FOR PILES

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure for piles, hemorrhoids, and all other ailments of the rectum. It is a safe and reliable remedy. The signature of Dr. Chase is on the wrapper. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor.

THE ONLY CURE FOR PILES

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure for piles, hemorrhoids, and all other ailments of the rectum. It is a safe and reliable remedy. The signature of Dr. Chase is on the wrapper. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor. Examine the wrapper and the name of the doctor.

BUSINESS AND FINANCE

MARKETS and FINANCE

Tuesday, Nov. 26.—Bad weather was the cause of a very small market for the morning. Only a few rigs were moving. Prices remained the same in all kinds of goods, but a slight drop was looked for before the day is over. Apples were plentiful and sold at 81 a bag, while some farmers were selling at 90 cents.

Livestock. Hogs to a jump in price and sold for $20.25 a hundred. This is the first jump in two weeks, but the cause may be the disagreeable weather, as the supply was very small this morning. Yesterday the regular price will prevail again.

Vegetables, etc.

Letterm, dozen	0.25	0.26
Parish, dozen	0.25	0.26
Potatoes, bush	0.10	0.11
Potatoes, small, bush	0.08	0.09
Carrots, dozen	0.25	0.26
Onions, dozen	0.25	0.26
Pumpkins, each	0.25	0.26
Pumpkins, small, each	0.25	0.26
Pumpkins, large, each	0.25	0.26
Pumpkins, small, each	0.25	0.26
Pumpkins, large, each	0.25	0.26

Dairy Produce.

Butter, dairy	0.20	0.21
Butter, cream	0.20	0.21
Butter, salt	0.20	0.21
Butter, unsalt	0.20	0.21
Butter, small	0.20	0.21
Butter, large	0.20	0.21

Fruits.

Apples, basket	0.30	0.31
Apples, small, basket	0.25	0.26
Apples, large, basket	0.30	0.31
Apples, small, large, basket	0.25	0.26

Smoked Meats.

Bacon, backs, pound	0.25	0.26
Bacon, sides, pound	0.25	0.26
Bacon, shoulders, pound	0.25	0.26
Bacon, hams, pound	0.25	0.26
Bacon, small, pound	0.25	0.26
Bacon, large, pound	0.25	0.26

Fish.

Salmon, pound	0.25	0.26
Salmon, small, pound	0.25	0.26
Salmon, large, pound	0.25	0.26
Salmon, small, large, pound	0.25	0.26

Meats.

Veal, per pound	0.25	0.26
Veal, small, per pound	0.25	0.26
Veal, large, per pound	0.25	0.26
Veal, small, large, per pound	0.25	0.26

The Hide Market.

Calf skin, 1 lb. pound	0.25	0.26
Calf skin, small, 1 lb. pound	0.25	0.26
Calf skin, large, 1 lb. pound	0.25	0.26
Calf skin, small, large, 1 lb. pound	0.25	0.26

Grain Market.

Barley, bushel	0.70	0.71
Barley, small, bushel	0.65	0.66
Barley, large, bushel	0.70	0.71
Barley, small, large, bushel	0.65	0.66

Hay and Straw.

Hay, per ton	5.00	5.01
Hay, small, per ton	4.50	4.51
Hay, large, per ton	5.00	5.01
Hay, small, large, per ton	4.50	4.51

Toronto Markets

FARMERS' MARKET.

Straw, per ton	17.00	18.00
Dressed hog	11.25	11.50
Butter, dairy	0.25	0.26
Butter, cream	0.25	0.26
Butter, salt	0.25	0.26
Butter, unsalt	0.25	0.26
Butter, small	0.25	0.26
Butter, large	0.25	0.26
Butter, small, large	0.25	0.26

Other Markets

WINNIPEG MARKETS.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

MILWAUKEE GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

ST. LOUIS GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Cattle—Receipts 5,500.
Beef—Receipts 1,500.
Butter—Receipts 1,500.
Butter—Receipts 1,500.

LONDON CLOSING PRICES.

Consols for money	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8

SUGAR MARKET.

Sugar, per cwt.	4.85	4.86
Sugar, per cwt.	4.85	4.86
Sugar, per cwt.	4.85	4.86
Sugar, per cwt.	4.85	4.86

Other Markets

WINNIPEG MARKETS.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

MILWAUKEE GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

ST. LOUIS GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat	82 1/2	83 1/2
Barley	74 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	31 1/2	32 1/2
Rye	31 1/2	32 1/2
Flour	31 1/2	32 1/2

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Cattle—Receipts 5,500.
Beef—Receipts 1,500.
Butter—Receipts 1,500.
Butter—Receipts 1,500.

LONDON CLOSING PRICES.

Consols for money	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8
Consols for account	79 1/8	79 1/8

G. B. PERRY INVESTMENT BONDS

Supplied by Evans & Co. 34 HUGHSON STREET SOUTH.

Gossip of Wall St.

London, Nov. 26.—Better continental political news reflected more cheerful houses advised, and this induced modestly fresh buying on the stock exchange, despite the attention attracted to general settlement. Prices were harder, including Canadian Pacific, Rio and the London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Flour—Winter patents, 20c. Hope in London (Pacific Coast), 24 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Powers Frowned John Street on Servia's Claim People Divided

(Continued from page 1.)

The Daily Telegraph says: "All the great nations are working harmoniously to insure tranquility, and are doing so by the aid of the law."

"A satisfactory feature in the message this morning from the king of Serbia is that the king is clearly aware that neither Germany, Austria, nor Russia will likely ally themselves with the king of the claims which Servia is obstinately advancing."

"The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers of the calamity of a great European war will not be allowed to ensue on account of Servia's claim to general settlement."

The Daily Express says: "The friends and patrons of Servia will be able to convince King Peter and his ministers

